Dear Ms. Sharon,

I am writing to thank you for your generous contribution from The Breast Cancer Research and Support Fund. With your contribution, you will be helping further promising ongoing research and support clinical care for individuals with breast cancer. I am deeply grateful for your generosity, and look forward to meeting you and learning more about your foundation.

Today, more than ever due to the decreasing amount of federal funding available, philanthropy makes a critical difference in our ability to advance medical research and patient care, providing hope and help to thousands who face breast cancer. As we move medicine forward, please know that your support has been critical to our discoveries. Be assured of our continued gratitude and commitment to bettering the lives of all of our breast cancer patients.

Wishing you a happy and healthy winter!

Sincerely,

Vered Stearns, M.D.
